Estate Parking Spaces

We are often asked why it costs more to rent an estate parking space than to buy a permit for parking on public roads.

On public roads there are no individual parking spaces

- You have to compete with other permit owners for the spaces available.
- You cannot predict where you will find a space. You may have to drive around looking for one.
- You may have to park several streets away from your home, because all the nearby spaces are taken.

Estate parking means a space of your own

Estate parking spaces are good value because each one is rented exclusively to only one household.

- No other permit holder is entitled to use your space.
- You will not need to drive around hunting for a place to park in competition with all the other street permit holders in your local area.
- You will not need to park several streets away from your home.

How it works

- For a weekly rent, that is based on your vehicle's carbon emission rating or engine size, an estate parking space will be allocated to you as close to your home as possible. You will be issued with a permit to display in your vehicle showing that it is authorised to park there.
- You will also be issued with a second permit that allows you to let your visitors park in your space or allows for a temporary or unplanned change of vehicle. There is no additional charge for this second permit.

No-one else will have a permit entitling them to park in your space.

You can report parking problems on an estate to the estate parking control contractors by telephoning 0870 240 4139.

Applying for an estate parking space

- Residents who would like to apply for an estate parking space should contact the customer services team at their local area housing office. They will be able to confirm the availability and cost of spaces.
- If a parking space on your estate is not immediately available your details will be held on a waiting list. In the meantime you may be able to rent a parking space on another estate nearby.
- Disabled Blue Badge holders receive top priority for allocation of an estate parking bay and are eligible for substantial discounts on parking space rent.

Remember that there is always very high demand for estate parking bays so please apply as soon as you can and help us to help you park conveniently.

Question: How do I rent an estate parking space?

Answer: To apply for an estate parking space contact your local area housing office and complete an application form.

Question: How much does an estate parking space cost?

Answer: The cost of renting an estate parking space varies depending on the vehicle's carbon emission rating or engine size and whether or not you are an estate resident. We also offer discounts to those who hold a disability parking Blue Badge. Your area housing office will be able to confirm the relevant costs for you.

Question: Why is it more expensive than buying a street permit?

Answer: Street permit holders use communal parking areas in competition with each other. If you are allocated an estate parking space you have exclusive use of a specific parking position. Renting an estate parking space is more convenient than using a street parking permit.

Question: How quickly can I get an estate parking space?

Answer: Area housing office customer services staff can tell you on which estates parking spaces are immediately available. If a space on your estate of choice is not immediately available they will be able to advise you on alternative options, such as temporarily using a parking space on another estate nearby, or renting an estate garage.
